

Empowering Rugby Clubs, Members & Supporters

At Regional Australia Bank, we understand the vital role rugby clubs play in nurturing strong, connected communities across regional New South Wales. That's why we're proud to partner with NSW Country Rugby Union, celebrating their dedication to inclusivity, participation, and community spirit.

Through this partnership, we're committed to supporting rugby club members—who are often the backbone of their local towns and businesses—by providing financial solutions designed for their unique needs. Together, we're not just supporting the game of rugby, but creating a legacy of stronger, more connected communities.

Strengthening Communities Through the Community Partnership Program (CPP)

At Regional Australia Bank, being mutually owned means we can support the things that truly matter. Through our Community Partnership Program (CPP), we're helping grassroots rugby thrive—at no cost to clubs or their members.

This is where community banking meets real impact. Every time members or local businesses use a selected everyday transaction account with us, they can nominate a community group to benefit from the program. It's a simple, effortless way for members and supporters to give back to their rugby clubs while staying focused on building stronger communities.

Making a Tangible Difference

The CPP isn't just about funds; it's about empowering clubs to grow, sustain, and thrive. Last year alone, nearly $2.75 million was donated to regional communities through the program, and we're proud to continue strengthening regional rugby with this impactful initiative. When you bank with us, you're investing in a brighter future for your club and your town.
